RentSafe is a multi-stakeholder initiative, led by the Canadian Partnership for Children's Health and Environment (CPCHE), that aims to address indoor environmental health risks affecting low-income tenants in both urban and rural communities in Ontario. With active involvement of public health, legal aid, community health and other stakeholder organizations as well as tenants themselves, RentSafe aims to build awareness and capacity in the health and social services sectors so that low-income tenants, when faced with mould, lead, radon and other indoor health threats, are better able to get the support they need to achieve healthier living conditions for themselves and their families. This 3-year initiative, launched in December 2014, is funded by the Ontario Trillium Foundation, with the Environmental Health Institute of Canada serving as the lead CPCHE partner organization. The role of the RentSafe Advisory Committee is to broaden the base of expertise and experience brought to bear on the project, and to facilitate sustained engagement of key organizations and sectors.
